Know Your Books

All books are not created equal.

Cut out the books below and place them on the correct bookshelf.

There is only one book that is true 100% of the time and will never change.

FICTION books are made-up stories, not necessarily based on historical facts.

NON-FICTION books are generally based on facts and are considered true. But they are subject to human error as well as new discoveries which may change the “facts” over time.

All Scripture is God-breathed and is useful for teaching, rebuking, correcting and training in righteousness, so that all God's people may be thoroughly equipped for every good work.

- 2 Timothy 3:16-17

Bible Translation Is Hard Work!

In the Greek language, Colossians 3:16 looks like this:

ο λογος του χριστου ενοικειτω εν υμιν πλουσιως εν παση σοφια διδασκοντες και νουθετουντες εαυτους ψαλμοις υμνοις ωδαις πνευματικαις εν χαριτι αδοντες εν ταις καρδιαις υμων τω θεω

William Tyndale worked hard to translate the Greek into the English that was used in his time:

Let the worde of Christ dwell in you plenteously in all wisdome. Teache and exhorte youre awne selves in psalmes and hymnes and spretuall songes which have favour wt them syngynge in youre hertes to the lorde.

English has changed over the years. Here is a modern translation of the same verse:

Let the word of Christ dwell in you richly as you teach and admonish one another with all wisdom, and as you sing psalms, hymns and spiritual songs with gratitude in your hearts to God.

Your Turn – Try to re-write this verse in words that are even easier for you to understand. Can you write the verse in words that a preschool child could understand?

Thinking through some tough issues

1. Can you imagine attending a church service and not being able to understand what is being said? Now suppose you didn't even have a Bible that you could read and understand. How might these circumstances affect your faith?
2. The original Old Testament Scriptures were written mostly in Hebrew, with some in Aramaic (the languages of the common people). It was translated into Greek in 250 – 100 BC by Jewish scholars. The New Testament was written in Koine Greek, which is what the common people spoke or read at the time. Why do you think these languages were used?
3. Why might it be good to read Scripture in its original language? Do you think the original Scripture writers meant their books to only be read and understood in these languages? Why or why not?
4. The church and government authorities thought that only educated people could understand the complexity of the Bible. That is one of their reasons for wanting to keep the Scripture only in Latin (only educated people could read Latin). Do you agree with their logic?
5. William Tyndale's books were printed as "pocket books." They were small enough to fit in a pocket. Why did it make sense for him to choose this size for his books?
6. Even though portions of the Bible have been translated into over 2,300 languages, there are still 2,700 different groups of people (known as "people groups") who don't have the privilege of reading the Scripture in their own language. What barriers can you think of that might be preventing the Bible from being translated into all languages? What specific steps can you take to help further Bible translation efforts worldwide?

Foreign Language Interview

Invite someone who is fluent in a foreign language to your classroom for an interview.

Here are some sample questions you can ask:

1. What languages can you speak?
2. Where did you learn to speak this foreign language? How long did it take to learn this language?
3. Are you also able to write in this language? Is it harder for you to speak or to write in a foreign language?
4. Have you ever translated portions of the Bible into another language?
5. Why would translating the Bible be more difficult than translating other types of writing?
6. Can you say the Lord's Prayer for us in another language? Can you teach us to say "Jesus Loves Me" in this language?
7. How does knowing another language help you to spread the Gospel?

"You are no longer foreigners and aliens, but fellow citizens with God's people and members of God's household."

Ephesians 2:19

The Bible in Many Forms

Johann Gutenberg invented the printing press in 1455 and promptly put it to good use. The first book ever printed was the Latin Bible. Before that, the Bible was written on a variety of different materials. Here are pictures of various media that have been used over the centuries to record the Bible. See if you can put them in order from oldest to newest by labeling them beginning with number 1.
