“One: Following Jesus’ Call for Unity” explores the controversial subject of Christian division and unity from both an historical and biblical basis through interviews with experts and thought leaders in a wide variety of Christian traditions and through the stories of Christians around the world who promote greater unity through love in action. More than My Brain

The human brain performs astonishing feats. Neuroscientists attempt to understand how the brain works and find themselves confronted with the most fundamental questions about humanity: How is our personality connected to the structure of our brain? Could computers develop consciousness? Can the “I” be found in the brain? Do human beings have free will? Is consciousness possible without a brain? Are the experiences of God or transcendence merely an illusion of the neuron?

This documentary takes you on an interdisciplinary journey with neuroscientists, philosophers, and theologians, all asking these great questions, and points to where science exceeds its limits to become a world view. 54 minutes (E).

2021 marks my 30th year with Vision Video. Over those three decades I’ve seen Vision Video grow with and adapt to new technology. We started out with 16mm films, then moved to VHS cassettes, DVDs, high-def, and on to digital downloads. In the spring of 2020, when much of the world was under quarantine, Vision Video developed RedeemTV.com, a free streaming service that provided a much-needed resource while people were spending so much time at home. I checked out some of the titles on RedeemTV and found a fascinating series called Homestead Blessings. Four charming southern ladies, a mother and three daughters, instruct us in back-to-basic skills used by homesteaders, including baking bread, making candles and soap, canning, gardening, etc. These classic skills are practically a lost art today, but this family delights in living off the land, working with their hands, and creating homespun products. I hope you will be as inspired as I was by this series!

The Torchlighters: The Mary Slessor Story

The bold Scottish missionary Mary Slessor has gone deeper into the Nigerian jungle than any other, bringing with her medicine, education, and the life-changing message of the Gospel. When a young mother arrives on her doorstep in the dead of night with newborn twins, Mary receives an even more challenging call from God: go bring peace and Good News to the Okiyong people, where a powerful witch doctor is terrorizing the most vulnerable to appease a vindictive god. In spite of strong warnings from Brits and Nigerians alike, Mary follows Christ even farther into the jungle, where Jesus called. Her life has inspired me, both as a child and now as an adult, to trust God more fully in my own life. I pray that this episode of Torchlighters will likewise encourage your own faith and the faith of the children you love.

~ Michelle Curtis (Editorial Assistant)

When I first saw Miracle Matt, I was immediately struck by this truly miraculous story. I’ve seen a lot of testimony movies over the years, and everyone’s story is amazing in many ways. But the story of Matt Manzari is one of those that leaves your jaw on the floor. If a screenwriter had written this as a fictional movie, I’d have said it was far too unrealistic.

Matt Manzari’s story of survival after two life-threatening accidents brought home to me the fact that God truly holds the keys to life and death. No doubt, the doctors who treated Matt were highly competent and heroic, but it was clearly God’s power that allowed Matt to continue living. The documentary does not sensationalize Matt’s story; instead, it is told in a straightforward and sensitive way. I came away from the film with a sense of awe and gratitude for the miracle that is life, as well as a reminder that we are all here for a purpose. Matt shares his story to encourage others to embrace God’s purpose for their lives.

~ Bill Carroll (Production Development Manager)

Matthew Manzari, a humble world-class athlete on the brink of fatherhood, is faced with losing everything he’s dreamed of in his fight for life. He survives not one but two accidents, each of which leaves him at death’s doorstep. But for Matt, miracles seem to be a way of life. In this inspiring documentary, Matt tells his almost unbelievable story of survival and relates how God’s power was perfected in his weakness. 24 minutes (E16).

When I was a child, my parents frequently read me missionary biographies at bedtime. Their stories inspired me to want to give my whole life to Jesus. Mary Slessor was one of those missionaries whose story kindled that desire to serve Jesus. As I’ve spent the last few months working on the leader and student guides to accompany the Torchlighters: The Mary Slessor Story, I think I may be even more in awe of Slessor’s story as an adult than I was as a child. With relentless prayer and enduring faith, Slessor went further and further into the jungle of modern-day Nigeria to share the love of Jesus with people other missionaries had been too afraid to approach. One of the quotes from Slessor that I found particularly striking is, “When you think of the woman’s power, you forget the power of the woman’s God. I shall go on.” Slessor is a hero not because she was super-human but because she trusted God with her whole life and followed where Jesus called. Her life has inspired me, both as a child and now as an adult, to trust God more fully in my own life. I pray that this episode of Torchlighters will likewise encourage your own faith and the faith of the children you love.
